Contemporary Surreal Artist

Fabian Artunduaga is a Colombian-born, Sydney-based contemporary surreal artist merging photography, design, and intuitive composition to create vivid, dreamlike imagery. Drawing heavily from his own awarded photographic archive, he constructs meticulous scenes shaped by ambiguity, contrast, balance, and precise color, often exploring dualities and the interplay between conscious and unconscious states.

His portfolio spans a vast array of digital collages, photos and video compositions, and has exhibited in both group and solo shows, including a two-week solo exhibition at 107 Green Square, The Other Art Fair Sydney, the Latin & Hispanic Artists Exhibition at Marrickville Town Hall, and invitations to exhibit at the Colombian Consulate in Sydney, alongside several smaller group shows across the city. His work has also appeared in music videos, served as album covers, and his T-shirt designs have been featured by international bands, extending his visual language into global creative projects.

Fabian's art invites viewers to explore their inner worlds and project their own interpretations, transforming each piece into a personal and psychological experience.
